The countdown is on: From 25–27 March, the international fastener and fixing industry will gather in Stuttgart for the landmark 10th edition of Fastener Fair Global – the world’s leading showcase for breakthrough technologies in this sector. This year’s event presents around 1,000 exhibitors from 40 nations on 52,000sqm gross space, spanning four large exhibition halls. On display: Thousands of fastener and fixing solutions for manufacturing, construction, and industry, including related production machinery, tools and equipment. A brand-new Innovation and Sustainability Pavilion will highlight specialist solutions shaping the future of this rapidly evolving sector.

The No.1 destination for fastener buyers, traders, and suppliers is back: Once again, Fastener Fair Global is set to turn Stuttgart into the global innovation hub for the fastener and fixing community. Over three days, visitors can explore an unmatched range of fastening and fixing solutions, covering virtually all industries and applications – from hardware and DIY retail to metalworking, construction, and logistics, as well as high-tech sectors like automotive, aerospace, mechanical engineering, electronics, and medical technology.

This makes it the perfect event for anyone involved in the sector – from suppliers, manufacturers, and distributors of fastener solutions to component buyers, engineers, and production specialists who rely on these products. Numerous machines and tools will be demonstrated live, offering visitors a hands-on, direct experience.
